Prevent Preventing Radicalisation/Tackling Extremism

Keeping children safe in education is our priority. This school works in partnership with the wider school community to ensure children and their families are safeguarded from radicalisation and extremism. In line with the PREVENT duty we will ensure that all staff and governors are trained, informed, recognise vulnerability and mitigate the risks. We mitigate identified risks and ensure the curriculum embeds British Values, teaching our staff, children and visitors to be tolerant and have respect for all faiths within our multi-cultural society. This is underpinned by a range of other school policies including 'e' safety, curriculum, staffing and safer recruitment.

What is abuse?

Any form of neglect, physical, emotional or sexual mistreatment or lack of care that leads to harm or injury. It can happen to any young person regardless of their age, gender, race or ability. What is discrimination? When people receive less favourable treatment which cannot be justified. This covers race, ethnic or national origin, language, religion or belief, gender, gender reassignment, sexual orientation, disability, social class, responsibility for other dependent or where the person lives.

People working in schools are uniquely placed to notice signs and symptoms of abuse and to support young people who are subject to abuse or living in abusive situations

Which children need protection?

You may become aware whilst working with a child that there are some problems at home or elsewhere that give you cause for concern.

You may become aware of unexplained marks or bruising, or changes in the child's behaviour or demeanour. Sometimes children display aggressive behaviour, become withdrawn and uncommunicative or unable to concentrate.

What should I do if a child discloses that s/he is being harmed?

- Although the likelihood of this is small it is important to know what to do in such an eventuality.
- Listen to the child, without making judgements.
- Take what they tell you seriously, children rarely lie about such matters.
- Explain that you can't keep the information secret and must pass it on to someone who will know what to do.
- Don't interrogate the child or ask leading questions, such as "what did he do next".
- Reassure the child that they have done the right thing by telling someone.
- Don't make promises that you can't keep but tell the child what you are going to do.
- REPORT IMMEDIATELY TO ONE OF THE PEOPLE ABOVE give the information to him/her. You are likely to be asked to make a written record of what you have seen or heard. This is an important part of your safeguarding responsibilities. You will be asked to summarise your concerns in writing including the student's name if known, or give a brief description of the student. If the student has told you they are being harmed, write down as accurately as possible what was said

What should I do if the alleged abuser is a member of the school staff?

You should report such allegations to the Head teacher, Mr Skipp. If the allegation is about the Head teacher contact the Chair of Governors,

David Whewell – telephone number available at reception. Email: dwhewell@jogschool.org
